

PITTSFIELD POST

A FREE WEEKLY PRODUCTION BY COMMUNITY VOLUNTEERS

"The crickets felt it was their duty to warn everybody that summertime cannot last forever. Even on the most beautiful days in the whole year – the days when summer is changing into autumn – the crickets spread the rumor of sadness and change." –

Congratulations to Ruth Huckins!

During last Saturday's Old Home Day festivities, 98-year-old life-long Pittsfield resident Ruth Huckins received The Boston Post cane. As neither Mrs. Huckins nor her husband were able to attend the ceremonies on Drake Field, her nephew, Dan Yeaton, stepped in and accepted the cane on her behalf. The tradition of The Boston Post cane dates back 112 years to 1909, when the paper's publisher, Edwin Grozier, sent 700 gold-tipped ebony canes to Selectboards across Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire as a publicity stunt. He asked that the canes be presented to each town's oldest resident. Initially presented to a town's oldest gentleman, in 1930 the practice expanded to include women recipients. Over time, many of these now quite valuable canes have been lost, but reportedly as many as 500 remain. Pittsfield's cherished cane is on display in the town hall for all to see. Recipients now are presented a facsimile to maintain during their tenure as "holder" of The Boston Post cane. The current Selectboard is working with dedicated historian and author Larry Berkson and other members of the Pittsfield Historical Society to create a plaque that will list all the local Post cane holders since 1909. The plaque will join the cane on permanent display. Founded in the fall of 1831, The Boston Post became one of the largest and most influential newspapers in the country. At the height of its popularity in the 1930s, the paper enjoyed a daily circulation of over a million readers. Publication of The Boston Post ended in 1956, but the tradition of the cane helps keep its name alive.

The Post is Counting on You!

Dear Crabby:

Now that we are retired, my husband and I no longer have a lot of money to spend. But he insists on paying extra for a vanity plate for our car – because he wants his name on the plate. How can I get him to stop this unnecessary expenditure? Penny Pincher

Dear Penny:

Tell your guy to buy a standard license plate, one with all numbers on it. Then have him change his name to what is on the plate. That way he'll get his name on the plate for free. Of course you'll have to get used to being Mrs. 487-238. Crabby

Cook's Corner

Creamy Hash Brown Casserole

Oh wow! You have to make this soon, it's so good! This dish of comfort food potatoes is a great side for brunch with eggs and sausage; or serve this alongside grilled burgers, steak, chicken or bratwurst for dinner. Dig in and enjoy!

1 pkg (32 oz) frozen, cubed (home fries style) hash brown potatoes, thawed
1 lb Velveeta cheese, cubed
2 cups sour cream
1 can (10.75 oz) condensed cream of chicken soup, do not dilute
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup butter, melted
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup finely chopped onion
 $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp paprika
2 cups cornflakes, lightly crushed

In a large bowl, combine potatoes, cheese, sour cream, soup,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter and the onion. Spread into a greased 9 x 13 baking dish. Sprinkle with paprika.

Combine cornflakes and the remaining melted butter and sprinkle on top of the potato mixture.

Bake, covered, at 350, until heated through, about 40 to 50 minutes. Uncover, bake until the top is golden brown, about 10 more minutes.

Barnstead Farmer's Market

Celebrating NH Eats Local Month

Barnstead Farmer's Market: Every Saturday 9:00am to 1:00pm, mid-June thru end of September and located at 96 Maple St. Barnstead, NH.

Celebrating local food is central to the pride Granite Staters have for our land, our communities, our history, and our traditions. Buying from New Hampshire's small businesses stimulates the state's economy and supports friends and neighbors to foster vibrant communities.

Show your local love all August long during NH Eats Local Month by supporting your local area farms and businesses. Eating locally injects strength into our communities as we care for our environment and center equity in all aspects of our lives. Let's continue to grow the Eat Local movement this August by visiting your local restaurant, farm or farmers market! Sourcing, growing, and supporting local food feeds Granite Staters sense of self-reliance and fosters sustainable living, while also ensuring everyone has enough nutritious food to lead healthy lives. Celebrate local food all August long during NH Eats Local Month.

Stay Tuned next week for our "Meet The Farmer" edition! Lori Maher, Chair Barnstead Farmers Market

School Board Review Summer Edition

After the sudden resignation of interim superintendent, Dr. John Graziano effective June 18th, The Pittsfield School Board and Pittsfield School District Administrators have been working hard to get the district back on track. The group met for a non-public work session on Monday June 21st, for the scheduled school board meeting on July 15th, and for two work sessions on July 19th and July 20th.

The Board would like to thank our hard working administrators who supported the board through this process. Not only did administrators attend these sessions, they also worked tirelessly to keep the district running without a superintendent. Additionally, The Board would also like to extend a special thank you to Tobi Chassie for her willingness to serve as a temporary interim superintendent. Her advice and guidance has been invaluable.

The Board is pleased to announce that they have offered the position of interim superintendent to Mr. Bryan Lane and he has accepted the offer. He will begin working with our district August 8th.

While the Board has been working on filling the vacant superintendent positions, the schools have been hard at work trying to fill teaching and professional staff vacancies. Additionally, both PES and PMHS have been running successful summer programs, camps and academies.

The Board will continue its work surrounding the tuition study. We are currently waiting for a Request for Proposals (RFP) to be drafted to send to the 7 schools profiled by the tuition study committee. This is intended to garner relevant information and data to compare and contrast the districts. This RFP will be sent to districts and is anticipated to be returned by October 1st.

There are lots of changes coming to our school district. We encourage you to come to our next meeting, Thursday, August 5th at 5:30 at PMHS, to hear more about it and to have your voice heard.
